Driving Stakes for Tent 'City'

Two Negroes drive final stakes after putting up a new tent at "Tent City" which has been built for evicted tenant farmers in Fayette County, Tenn., in the Somerville area.

Some 700 other Negro sharecroppers relaxed today behind a shield of temporary court orders barring their ouster. The Negroes claim evictions were ordered by farm owners in retaliation against those who registered to vote.

The government has filed civil suits against landowners, merchants and bankers in the affected community, charging organized economic pressure against Negroes who registered to vote.

The effect of the temporary orders is to stay eviction notices until trial is held. No date has been set.

The temporary orders against eviction came at the 11th hour Friday. Most of the sharecropped contracts expire Jan. 1.

Western military observers in Laos said there did not indicate any invasion of Laos had taken place. "Our information indicates these reports should be discounted," the source said.

Laos Government Charges Invasion

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Premier Boun Oum's pro-Western government said today northeast Laos had been invaded by seven Red North Vietnamese battalions supported by artillery and that the town of Nong was under attack.

(The Soviet news agency Tass, in a dispatch from Hanoi, quoted the North Viet Nam Foreign Ministry as terming the invasion report "absolutely false" and an attempt to camouflage "the intervention of American imperialists" in Laos.

(Tass quoted paratroop Capt. Kong Le, leftist leader in Laos, as threatening to call in "volunteer units from Afro-Asian countries" if "intervention" by the United States, South Viet Nam and Thailand does not cease.)

Prince Boun's office said his Southeast Asian kingdom, which the United States supports with military and financial aid, "reserves the right to appeal to friendly countries" if the invasion is not halted.

Word of the attack came in intelligence reports from the commander of the mountainous second military region, the government said.

No One Injured In 3 Road Mishaps

No one was injured in three auto accidents that occurred in the area Friday, the State Patrol reported.

Paul E. Morris, 20, of 30 Walnut St., Leetonia, lost control of his vehicle on slippery pavement, causing it to go through a guard rail and overturn over an embankment at 2:30 a.m. on Alternate Rt. 14 east of the corporation limits of Washingtonville. Morris was cited for reckless operation.

Robert J. Fritz, 22, of Elyria and Jacob F. Schulman, 33, of Youngstown collided on Rt. 7 at the intersection of Rt. 7 and Overhill Rd. just south of Youngstown at 7:40 p.m.

Schulman was going south on Rt. 7 when Fritz pulled out of a street and stopped in the line of traffic and was struck by Schulman.

Fritz was cited for failure to yield the right of way the Patrol said.

In an accident a half-mile west of Youngstown on Rt. 18, Thomas Zimmerman, 55, of Youngstown and Alexander Miller, Jr., 31, of Girard collided at 8:25 p.m.

Zimmerman was stopped on Rt. 18 in the passing lane, waiting to make a left turn and Miller struck his auto in the rear.

Miller was cited by the Patrol for not stopping in the assured clear distance.

2-Car Crash Kills E. Palestine Couple

Victor E. Tancer, 61, of RD 1, East Palestine, and his wife, Olga, 55, were fatally injured in a two-car mishap on Rt. 14, two and a half miles north of the Columbiana County line north of Columbiana at 5:15 p.m. Friday.

They were the parents of John Tancer of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Tancer were traveling south on Rt. 14 when he apparently lost control of his vehicle, went off the right side of the road, swerved back across the center line and was struck broadside by a northbound auto driven by Alfred J. Mastering, 43, of Newbury, the State Patrol reported.

Both Tancer and his wife were pronounced dead on arrival at Salem City Hospital.

Tancer, thrown clear of the car, suffered a crushed right chest, a compound fracture of the right leg and internal injuries, according to the Columbiana County coroner, Dr. William Koizsi.

Mrs. Tancer sustained a fractured cervical spine, a crushed chest and internal injuries, Dr. Koizsi said.

Mastering suffered possible fractures of the right arm, nose and head and sustained contusions of the knees, face and chest. He is in fair condition at Salem City Hospital.

The coroner said that he is still investigating the accident.

Funeral On Tuesday.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at the Schiavone Funeral Home, 1842 Belmont Ave., Youngstown. The time of the services will be posted at the funeral home. Calling hours will be on Sunday from 7-9 p.m. and on Monday from 2-4 p.m. and 7-9 p.m.

Tancer was born in Hungary on Aug. 17, 1899, and has been in this country for 32 years. He has lived at his present East Palestine address for 22 years.

A self-employed truck driver, Tancer was a veteran of World War I and was married in 1923.

His wife Olga Esther Neumann, was born on Feb. 8, 1905, also in Hungary and was employed for many years at the Howard Johnson Turnpike Restaurant, Mahoning Valley, near North Lima.

Survivors include two daughters, Vera of Youngstown and Mrs. Margaret Bush of Hartsville; seven sons, Martin of East Palestine; Pvt. Donald of Killeer, Texas; Frank V. of Beloit; Louis S. of West Midway, Mass.; Victor E., Jr. of Brunswick, Maine; John of Salem and Joseph of Boyton Beach, Fla., and six grandchildren.

Tancer also leaves two sisters who reside in the Youngstown area. Burial will be in Youngstown.

Village Election Changes Cited

4-Year Terms Set For 4 Councilmen

All villages in Columbiana County will elect four councilmen for four-year terms and two for two-year terms in the 1961 elections as a result of a new law enacted at the last session of the Ohio General Assembly.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today at Columbus called attention to the new law, pointing out that village council candidates will be required to specify when filing for a ballot place whether they seek a four-year term or a two-year term.

Under Ohio law, villages are divided into two categories—those under 2,000 population and those over 2,000 but less than 5,000—but the new law applies to the councils of both the so called smaller villages and larger villages, Brown asserted.

In the 1963 elections, only two councilmen's terms will expire in each case. When they are filled next time, the terms also will be four years. The arrangement was worked out in the new law in order to provide for staggered terms.

Communities affected in Columbiana County by the new law include: Salineville, Lisbon, Leetonia, Summitville, Roberts, Columbiana, New Waterford, Hanoverton and Washingtonville.

Candidates in villages over 2,000 run on party tickets, so they are required to file by Feb. 1 for ballot places under the May primaries. Office holders in villages under 2,000 are elected on non-partisan ballots. They need not file until fall, as they skip the primaries and run in the November general election.

The ballots will list separately the candidates for four-year terms and those seeking two-year terms, Brown said. The new law applies to all Ohio villages except those which have adopted charters under which they function under regulations different than those prescribed in state law for all villages.

Communities over 5,000 are in the city class. Columbiana County has four: East Liverpool, Wellsburg, Salem and East Palestine.

Belgians Uneasy as New Year Dawns

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Belgians today uneasily awaited the new year, feeling it would bring new violence to the nation torn by strikes and political squabbling.

The strikes and violence which have raged for 12 days throughout Belgium showed signs of easing during the holiday, but the grave political differences remain as large as ever.

The first week of the new year brings several events officials fear could spark new violence.

Premier Gaston Eyskens goes before Parliament Tuesday in an effort to ram through the government's controversial economic reform program of his Catholic-Liberal government over bitter Socialist opposition.

Socialist leaders have scheduled huge demonstrations and walkouts for Wednesday in Brussels and Antwerp.

The bloodiest fighting yet broke out in Brussels Friday. An orderly demonstration turned into a sprawling brawl with 3,000 rioters armed with stones and clubs pitted against mounted police wielding sabers. One man was killed and 12 persons were injured.

Harriman Roving Envoy

New York Negro Gets Housing Post

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today names a Negro—first to be picked for a top job in the new administration—as chief of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Kennedy scheduled a late morning news conference for formal announcement of appointment of Robert C. Weaver, 51, now vice chairman of New York City's Housing and Redevelopment Board. He has a Harvard doctor of philosophy degree.

He also has served for the past year as national chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Selection of Weaver became known Friday night after the president-elect had chosen W. Averell Harriman, former envoy to the Soviet Union and former governor of New York, to serve as his roving ambassador on important special missions abroad.

Kennedy said the overseas assignments he has in mind for Harriman will be carried out by a man "who has the full confidence of the president and an intimate knowledge of all aspects of United States policy."

It will cost Weaver $1,500 in salary reduction to take over direction of federal housing program. His New York position pays $22,500 annually compared with $21,000 in the new position.

Norman P. Mason is administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency in the outgoing Eisenhower administration. The

Leetonia Nursing Home Operator Blocks Regulations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Effective date for new regulations covering Ohio nursing and rest homes, scheduled originally for Jan. 1, now will be delayed because of a restraining order.

The 10th District Court of Appeals granted the order against the Public Health Council of Ohio, effective until Jan. 18.

The action was brought by Mildred A. Arfman, operator of a nursing home at 235 High St., Leetonia, Columbiana County. She identified herself as a member of the Ohio State Federation of Licensed Nursing Homes and said in a petition that she brought the suit in behalf of herself and the other 364 members of the federation.

The petition objected to the way in which public hearings were conducted by the health council. She charged that opponents were not allowed to be heard in discussions of the new proposed regulations.

She also contended that in hearings Nov. 19 and Dec. 10 and 11 testimony was taken without oath and without stenographic record as required by law, and that deliberations and conclusions of the new regulations were carried out after the announcement that the hearing was conducted.

Peru Severs Ties With Cuba

Peru broke off diplomatic relations with Cuba in a move that diplomats say may trigger off a mass move by Latin American governments to isolate the Fidel Castro regime.

Growing anger among leaders of hemispheric neighbors was evident over the activities of Cuban agents charged with spreading revolutionary propaganda among the masses.

Uruguayan President Benito Marrone told an interviewer Friday night that his government may expel the Cuban ambassador in Montevideo and cut all ties with Havana.

There was speculation among diplomats in Lima that Colombia, Venezuela and Chile may follow suit and freeze out Castro agents.

A petition was being circulated in Panama appealing to President Roberto Chari to break diplomatic and trade relations with Cuba.

Five other Latin American countries—Guatemala, Haiti, Nicaragua, Paraguay and the Dominican Republic—have withdrawn their top diplomats from Havana.

The Peruvian government accused the Cuban Embassy with "evident interference" in Peru's internal affairs by handing out Communist revolutionary propaganda among other acts.

In one of the strongest denunciations of Castro's regime by a South American government, Peru declared, "The foreign affairs policy of the current Cuban government violates all standards of international law."

Havana was charged with subsidizing subversive agents to incite "destruction of the legally constituted authority of public powers, those of the Catholic Church and of the armed forces."

The Cuban charge d'affaires was ordered to get out of Peru as soon as possible and take with him all other members of his staff.

Mailman Ends 36-Year Career

Chester O. Mellinger is pictured making his last mail deliveries on Rural Route No. 2 today, ending a 36-year period of service with the Salem Post Office.

Chet, who has no immediate plans for the future, was originally appointed as a clerk at the post office Dec. 18, 1924. Prior to that time he had worked at the former plant of the American Steel & Wire Co.

He became a regular postal clerk in 1927 but transferred to a rural delivery route Aug. 12, 1951, when his physician recommended outdoor work.

The veteran carrier, who lives with his son, Barton, and daughter, Marilyn, on Tower Rd., also has another daughter, Mrs. Gayle Bigley of Portland, Ore. Chet, who likes to sing, is a member of the Saxon Church and the Emmanuel Lutheran Church Choir.

His RD 2 mail route will be taken over temporarily by the substitute, Mrs. Richard Rhodes.

Barn Burns; Loss May Near $20,000

The loss may run as high as $20,000 in a spectacular fire that destroyed a big bank-barn and adjoining milkhouse on the Clyde Hopton farm four miles south of Salem about 9 p.m. Friday.

Full of hay, straw and grain, the barn went up like a torch and attracted spectators from miles around.

Hopton, his stepson Joseph Kilbreath who operates the farm and lives in another house on the property, and another relative herded 30 dairy cows and a pony from their stalls to safety.

Kilbreath discovered the fire shortly after 8:30 p.m. as he left his mother's place after a visit. He said flames were breaking through the slate roof.

Winona and Guilford Lake Volunteer Fire Departments responded and protected the Hopton house and a full corner.

Considerable farming and milkhouse equipment was lost. A tractor and manure spreader were pulled from the barn just in time—the wheel of the tractor ablaze.

The Hopton place is on Yates Road between Depot Road and Route 45. The loss is partly insured.

Origin of the blaze was not determined. Firemen said it may have been caused by a short in the electrical wiring.

Kilbreath found a place for his mixed herd in an unused barn on the old Miller farm nearby.

Thieves At Lisbon Escape With $190

LISBON—Burglars broke into the D. W. Dickey & Son Feed Mill office Friday night, forced a fireproof safe-type cabinet and took $190 from a money drawer.

The intruders even borrowed their tools from a supply of new hatchets and hammers in the office.

Policeman Leon Zahndt said the burglars evidently wore gloves because the handles of the tools were covered with greasy dirt.

They knocked the combination off the cabinet and pried off the door to get into the main compartment which contained the firm's accounts. They were not disturbed.

Dickey discovered the burglary about 7:30 a.m. today. Police said the thieves pried open a south window next to the truck scales to get in.

Confident Living

A Year of Happiness For You

Would you like to know whether 1961 will be a good year for you? If you knew where you could get that information, you would go for it, wouldn't you?

Some people consult fortune tellers. Who wouldn't like to have a peek into his own future?

One day in a hotel lobby with a little time to spare between appointments, I noticed a woman seated at a corner table with a sign announcing that she was an astrologer and you could have your future read from the stars. I learned from the sign that I could have a one-dollar, a three-dollar or a five-dollar reading — the price depending on the gathered, on how much information I was after. For the fun of it I blew myself to a one-dollar reading.

The fortune teller proceeded to look up the stars at the time of my birth, and from that configuration of the heavens she began projecting my future. But while she was talking I could not help thinking of a line from Shakespeare's Julius Caesar: "The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings."

If you really want a good year in 1961, I suggest that you emphasize a statement from the Book of Proverbs, memorize it and write it on your mind: "Keep your heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life."

LET'S FACE IT — your future is determined primarily by one thing: the quality and condition deep inside your mind. This creates the life you will have in times ahead. And remember another important fact: We are all endowed with the capacity to change and control our inner condition. And in so doing we control outer conditions too.

Out of the heart are the issues of life. Believe me, that Bible text is worth thinking about. By the heart is meant the essence of your personality. The first essential for a good future is to have a sound heart, in which there is no ill will or other sin. Think good thoughts; let evil thoughts go by. Have no resentment or animosity or prejudice toward any other soul on earth. And do not entertain dishonesty or lust. And have lots of faith.

But suppose you have made New Year's resolutions along these lines in other years and then found you didn't have what it took to keep them? Well, that is where religion comes in: the secret is to ask and really accept God's help. With that you can keep any resolution.

I talked recently with a man in the advertising field who had come to me for personal advice. His appearance and manner were "Madison Avenue" in the extreme. So beautifully fitted was the suit he wore, you would almost think it had been poured onto him. He spoke with an ultra-cultured accent. Everything about him bespoke sophistication.

AFTER REMARKING that he found it strange to be consulting a preacher, he came straight to the point. "I'm as unhappy as hell," he said. And he proceeded to describe his unhappiness in detail. He had been unfaithful to his wife a number of times and thereby lost her. His son having got in trouble with the law, had barely escaped being sent to jail and was on probation. He looked me squarely in the eye and said, "I am responsible for all of it." I liked him for that. He was a square shooter it seemed. Once again he asserted, "I'm in hell." Then he asked if I could help him out of the mess he had made of his life.

I told him, I'm sorry, my friend, but there is nothing I can do for you. He looked stunned, I continued, "But that doesn't mean there's no hope for you. There's another angle."

"Let's have it," he said. "What's your pitch?"

"My pitch," I replied, "is very simple. If you will tell God you are sorry about the wrong you have done and actually mean it, and if you really surrender yourself to His guidance — He will help you out of your unhappiness."

He gave me a surprising answer: That is what I wanted you to tell me. I'd have been disappointed if you had handed me weasel words."

I am glad to say the man did have the spiritual guts to accept God. Now his heart is sound and his conscience clear. He is not yet wholly out from under the unfortunate consequences of his previous way of life, but things are beginning to look up for him. It surely is a fact that "Out of our hearts are the issues of life."

THE SECOND REQUISITE for happiness is a concern for the happiness of your fellow men. Years ago I met a gentleman who at one time had become so discouraged about himself and life that he tried to end his life. When he failed to kill himself, the thought came that God had spared him for some purpose. He concluded that the purpose of his life was to help others. In later years he helped about as many people as any man I ever knew. And he was a spectacularly happy man. He made a practice of leaving his business card with everyone he met. It was a curious card. I've kept the one he gave me ever since. On the reverse side is the following printed message: "The way to happiness: Keep your heart free from hate, your mind from worry. Live simply, expect little, do much. Fill your life with love, scatter sunshine, forget self, think of others and do as you would be done by. Try it for a week. You will be surprised." Why not try that formula and make 1961 a year with lots of happiness in it?

Yesterday is gone. We tear its page from our calendar, for we live in the present.

But often we look back with nostalgia to the many yesterdays which make up the past. In a different mood we plan for the uncertain days ahead, sometimes filling them with happy expectations, sometimes with anxious forebodings.

Where is God in this time pattern of our lives?

Is He in the past alone, incarnate two thousand years ago in the great Teacher of Nazareth? Or does He walk with us through the present, our Companion each day? Does He remove all fear from the future with His promise, the promise of the living Christ, "And lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world?"

Come to Church and learn to know this Christ who is "the same yesterday, today, and forever."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Landis Report

By DAVID LAWRENCE

'Lobbying In Its Worst Sense' Cited

How federal commissions and boards shall function isn't a very spectacular subject and hence suffers from inattention by the public, yet this fundamental issue goes to the root of responsible government. It involves many hundreds of millions of dollars in governmental favors, the handing out of which under lobbying pressures and other forms of influence have produced many scandals.

When the founding fathers created three separate divisions of government—the executive, the legislative and the judicial branches—they didn't foresee the need for a fourth, namely, the commissions and boards that necessarily combine both administrative and judicial functions.

There have just been issued two reports on the whole subject. One is called a "Staff Report to the Special Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce." The other is a special report submitted to President-elect Kennedy by James M. Landis, who occupied a prominent role in two of these federal commissions under Democratic administrations.

THE RECOMMENDATIONS of both reports are general in nature and urge the appointment of better qualified men, with a high sense of duty, so as to avoid the scandals in lobbying and outside influence that have been exposed in recent years.

The report to the House, in one of its conclusions, says:

"The time has arrived when Congress, the executive, and the commissions themselves should institute a program of action to eliminate bottlenecks and provide for more just and expeditious administration of the law. The goal is not an across-the-board solution for the myriad problems of the several agencies. Nor should it be a superficial tinkering with existing statutes and regulations. What we need are far-reaching, constructive measures implementing a broad, clearly defined, national policy in each of the regulatory areas involved, plus a limited number of enactments tailored to meet the particular needs of the various commissioners."

In his report, Mr. Landis speaks of 'lobbying in its worst sense' as occurring in connection with the award of overseas airline routes by the Civil Aeronautics Board, of which he was at one time chairman. Criticism is also directed against the Federal Communications Commission and the charge is made that "a strong suspicion also exists that too great an influence is exercised over the commission" by the radio and TV networks.

The Federal Power Commission is reprimanded for allegedly flouting the interest of consumers in deciding rate cases in the natural-gas industry, while opinions of the Interstate Commerce Commission are characterized as "in the poorest category."

MR. LANDIS realizes that there is no simple solution and proposes therefore that Congress give the president the power to carry out reorganizations from time to time, subject to congressional veto.

In the meantime, he would set up in the White House itself an office for the coordination and development of transportation policy, and similar offices for communications and energy policies, along with a super-coordinating agency to oversee the work of all the regulatory commissions.

The truth of the matter is that until the basic issue involved is settled—to what extent these commissions shall remain executive, and how judicial matters arising under their operations shall be handled—not much progress is likely to be made on the whole complex problem.

After Herbert Hoover left the presidency, he spent several years at the head of commissions studying governmental reorganization and one of his most significant recommendations was that federal regulatory agencies should exercise quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial functions but turn over their administrative activities to the executive departments of government headed by members of the Cabinet.

The many regulatory commissions are dealing every day with questions that involve hundreds of millions of dollars. The licenses for valuable radio and television facilities are, for instance, issued free on a discretionary basis, instead of being awarded to the highest bidder.

There has been much criticism of the lobbying that goes on but the most serious phase of it isn't likely to be corrected if the present system is maintained.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS, under pressure from their constituents, do a lot of lobbying for them and consider it legitimate. Yet they wouldn't venture to approach judges who are part of a court system.

No matter how much "co-ordinating" is done, as urged in the Landis report, the main issue still remains untouched—if Congress isn't permitted to lobby, shall the White House staff enjoy that privilege?

Franklin D. Roosevelt tried to control the Federal Trade Commission and fired its chairman because he said the latter's views "didn't go along" with his own.

The Supreme Court reversed that action and said that the commissioners could be removed only for the causes specifically set forth in the law by Congress and that disapproval of a commissioner's policies wasn't one of them. Yet the Landis report now would give the president dictatorial power over the commissions by providing that the chairman of each would serve at the pleasure of the president.

Congress is jealous of its prerogatives and ultimately the whole problem will be satisfactorily solved only if there's a distinct line drawn between administrative and judicial matters, and if boards or special courts of review—untouchable by any lobbyist—are set up to protect the public interest.

Religious Paradox

By JULES LOH

In the realm of religion, mark down the year 1960 as a paradox of turmoil and tranquility.

This was the year of "the religious issue," and beneath the serious debate were manifestations of intolerance and bigotry. It also was the year Christianity visited Rome, and overshadowing the official courtesies was an unprecedented air of dialogue and unity.

It was the year that gave birth to a new phrase: "kneel-in demonstration"; and the year that produced the first Negro cardinal.

It was the year swastikas and anti-Jewish slogans defaced synagogues and public buildings; and the year rabbis preached sermons in 400 Methodist churches by invitation.

It also was a year of personal accomplishment.

John F. Kennedy buried the notion a Roman Catholic could not be elected president of the United States. There also were other names that made news; some of them familiar, others in the headlines for the first time.

Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A., who proposed a merger of Methodists, Episcopalians, Presbyterians and members of the United Church of Christ.

Billy Graham, who added a sixth continent to his worldwide evangelizing crusade with a 10-nation "Safari for Souls" in Africa.

Archbishop Gunnar Hultgren, primate of Sweden's Lutheran Church who abandoned tradition and ordained three women ministers.

Aloysius Cardinal Stepinac of Yugoslavia, whose death cried out against Communist injustices as eloquently as the prelate had in life.

But no names produced more startling religious news in 1960 than those of Angelo Giuseppe

Roncalli, Pope John XXIII; and Geoffrey Francis Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury.

Their Dec. 2 meeting in the Vatican was the first time the heads of the two ancient churches had set down together in 500 years, and marked the high point of a year sprinkled with other expressions of growing cordiality in the Christian community.

Also in 1960 leaders of 171 Protestant, Eastern Orthodox and Anglican churches gathered in St. Andrews, Scotland, for the 11th annual meeting of the World Council of Churches.

Their chief topic was church unity, and among other moves they drew up a code of behavior which would prohibit proselytizing one another's members. The code awaits final approval at the 1961 meeting in New Delhi.

What threatened to be the most divisive episode of 1960—the religious issue in the presidential campaign—may result in more understanding between Catholics and Protestants. A post-election survey of church leaders showed most felt the campaign inspired discussions provided a foothold for further conversation which inevitably will lead to better understanding between the two groups.

New Frontiers: 1961

By JOHN N. ADAMS

EXPLORERS found here the challenge of the land frontier.

Early settlers met and overcame the challenge of a primitive population of Indians and a hostile wilderness.

Dreamers found opportunity to pursue exploration of the frontiers of religion, the arts and sciences.

That early type of frontier now has passed.

No longer is there a clash between civilization and savagery, no struggle to eke out bare existence from the land, but there does remain the frontier of freedom and the "better way of life."

It was the parallel struggles for land and freedom that gave America its most precious heritage—the resourcefulness that characterized this nation.

IT WAS THE INFLUENCE of the frontier life that produced a vital legacy, with values worthy of perpetuation if we are to conquer our new frontiers.

In his "History of the American Frontier," Frederick L. Paxson, a scholar of the 19th century wrote: "The frontier with its continuous influence is the most American thing in all America. In future generations we may perhaps become an amalgam of the European races and lose the advantages of a fresh continent but we shall still possess and be shaped by a unique heritage."

Another historian and a contemporary of Paxson's, Dr. Frederick Jackson Turner, observed its influences and wrote: "The words of travelers along each frontier from colonial days onward describe certain common traits and these traits have, while softening down, still persisted as survivals in the place of their origin, even when a higher social organization succeeded. The result is that to the frontier the American intellect owes its striking characteristics."

"That coarseness and strength combined with acuteness and inquisitiveness; that practical inventive turn of mind, quick to find expedients; that masterful grasp of material things, lacking in the artistic but powerful to effect great ends; that restless nervous energy, that dominant individualism, working for good or evil and withal that buoyancy and exuberance which comes with freedom—these are the traits of the frontier, or traits curled out elsewhere because of the existence of the frontier."

SINCE THE TIME when Columbus sailed into the waters of the New World, America has been another name for opportunity. The United States has reached its place as a world power because of the incessant expansion which has not only been open to Americans but at times even has been forced upon them.

It would be folly to believe that this expansive characteristic of Americans and American life has ceased to exist.

Ours indeed has been a unique heritage and one we need to be familiar with as we set out to explore new frontiers in a new year.

That's not for us—the collective me. We intend to assert our individuality, especially when tipped off in advance as to what the collectivists expect us to do collectively.

This has been a good year. We shattered every prediction made about us and are looking forward to another good year in 1961. We'll keep 'em guessing about everything next time.

SIDE GLANCES

"Seems like everything comes in the large economy size except houses!"

Everybody Gets One Free Guess

Next to guessing about business conditions in 1961, the most popular field of guesswork now is about future leadership of the Republican party.

Everybody gets a free guess because no one knows what will happen. One guess is as good as another.

Perhaps Barry Goldwater will rush into a vacuum of leadership created when Vice President Nixon turns his back on Washington and goes to California to pick up the pieces of his shattered project for reaching the White House.

It may be Nelson Rockefeller who will mount a political white horse and lead the Republican foot soldiers into the fray when Dwight Eisenhower retires to Gettysburg.

It could be the next chairman of the Republican National Committee who will emerge as such a rallying point that all Republicans from the Goldwater extreme on the reactionary side to the Rockefeller extreme on the progressive side will flock to his side.

But as long as the whole thing is guesswork, it's worth guessing that the most influential men in the Republican party will continue to be the men who have been influential in the recent past.

One will be Dwight D. Eisenhower, the party's greatest vote-getter and the Republican whose voice carries farthest.

One will be Richard M. Nixon, whose friends always can claim that he would have been elected president in 1960 if all the votes had been counted the way they were cast and who did win all but a few thousand votes against the most resolute, the most skilled and by far the best financed and most resolutely supported candidate the Democrats could have found.

One will be Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, who was the most plausible and the most engaging national chairman of recent years—a man who was as attractive a political image as the party's unusually attractive candidates.

And one will be Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

It is interesting to speculate that people like Goldwater, Rockefeller and others with a new point of view to advance might rush into a vacuum left when both President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon leave Washington But it's foolish.

There isn't going to be any vacuum, in the first place. And in the second place, the Republican party either stands for moderation in politics and in national policies, or it stands for nothing worth voting for.

It is not as reactionary as Barry Goldwater, nor as "progressive" as Nelson Rockefeller.

There Can Be No Foreign Policy

Millions of Americans would sleep better if tea-leaf readers looking into the future of the Kennedy administration would quit murmuring about a new foreign policy.

There can be no new foreign policy in a country dedicated to preservation of human freedom. There can be nothing but greater or lesser effort in behalf of freedom. Any deviation from that course would be a disaster.

Deviation is the prerogative of the Soviet Union and other absolutist states where policies can be changed by government decree. In the United States, policy must reflect the will of the people.

John F. Kennedy criticized the Eisenhower administration during his campaign for being inattentive to Latin America, tardy in Africa and unimaginative in Asia. Among the studies that have been undertaken for his benefit, one in particular is being worked on by a group that includes his younger brother Ted. This is a study of Africa, also the special area to be dealt with by G. Mennen Williams.

This emphasis on Africa might indicate neglect of Asia, but both Dean Rusk and Chester Bowles, No. 1 and No. 2 men in the State Department, have concentrated on Asia. Thus, it is Europe that may end up as the neglected area—a possibility that could have a salutary effect on European governments that play hard to please.

THE KREMLIN appears to believe the

Ready and Able

While Salem Democratic party leaders are trying to make up their minds on whom to recommend for the postmaster job here, they might reflect on recent actions of U.S. Senator Stephen M. Young, who has a big voice in Ohio Democratic patronage.

The senator, who obviously blocked the permanent appointment of Republican Orvil C. Hoover as postmaster because it was "political", brushed aside political patronage seekers in Cleveland last week when he declared that the new postmaster for the Cleveland office will come from the ranks.

If Sen. Young is looking for a postal career man here he won't have to search far. Superintendent of Mails Ray Reasbeck, who is an applicant for the Salem job, is a Democrat and has had 29 years of meritorious service at the local post office.

Once Over

This will be just another year, as years go. It will be a stutter-step in the long march of time.

Historians will know nothing about solemn declarations that it's going to be a year of special importance. All years were going to be specially important for someone. This year will loom no larger or smaller than other years in perspective.

Yet, the wish for a happy new year, as commonly understood, conveys the thought that the year, itself, is supposed to bring happiness.

Or at the best the wish is understood to mean that happiness should engulf the beneficiary of the wish. That is no likelier to happen than happiness produced by the year, itself.

IT IS THE consensus at the beginning of 1961 that 1960 was not a particularly happy year, the way happiness is gauged by world-warriers. Those awful Russians in the Kremlin were up to their old tricks, the Algerian trouble was bad, and conditions elsewhere in Africa were deplorable. There were riots in Japan, the U2 was brought to ground, the United States was caught in an awkward cover story for the incident and a national election went wrong for half the voters. Also, many Americans were unemployed. This was through no fault of their own, it was pointed out, though it never is pointed out in this connection that many more Americans are employed through no virtue of their own either.

But in general it is being said, as it usually

Kennedy administration offers hope of easier relations than had been in existence during at least the latter part of the Eisenhower administration.

Cyrus S. Eaton, the Cleveland industrialist who keeps in touch with Kremlin moods, seems to see possibilities of easier relations, too. He has spoken of "new faces and new ideas" in the U.S. State Department, apparently referring to faces other than those of the late John Foster Dulles and his successor, Christian Herter, and to ideas other than those that were in effect during the Eisenhower administration.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has declared in favor of an early summit conference. Prime Minister Macmillan of Great Britain told the House of Commons this month that he would discuss a summit conference in his first discussion with the Kennedy administration.

But President-elect Kennedy has shown no interest in summit conferences without reasonable certainty of success. The new secretary of state to be, Mr. Rusk, has warned that summit diplomacy should be regarded with the same wariness that a doctor feels when prescribing a habit-forming drug; that it is to be employed under only exceptional circumstances and then only with elaborate safeguards.

IN FOREIGN AFFAIRS, as in domestic affairs, there is always the happy illusion of something about to be changed for the better because of an election.

But in both foreign and domestic affairs, there are no new dimensions. All problems have become routine and fixed. All possibilities have been exhausted.

There are no sudden break-throughs, no miracles. Any attempt to create the illusion of break-throughs and miracles is certain to be disastrous.

Americans would feel more secure if all the self-appointed sages and soothsayers would quit talking about a new foreign policy. There isn't going to be anything new. Only the Kremlin could do that, if it abandoned its fixed purpose of overthrowing all other governments.

If you're constantly losing yours, don't expect it to be easy to get ahead.

Closets are where kids find birthday presents hidden there to keep kids from finding them.

By H. I. Phillips

is of old years, that this one was a disappointment. To many all it meant was one more year added to their age and a little more unneeded proof that the best laid schemes of mice and men "gang aft agley."

But to many it was the best possible of all years, the same as this is the best possible of all worlds. All things happened as fortunately as it was in the cards for them to happen—and most of the events left a residue of experience that can be used to the profit of knowledgeable beholders.

There is no need to wish such people a happy new year. To them, the happiness that others wish for is found in the fact of their being alive—being privileged to take part in the events of their era, whether the events, themselves, are happy, unhappy, or in-between.

THESE PEOPLE are not happy if the events makes others unhappy, but by the same token they do not let their own happiness be destroyed by the fact there is unhappiness elsewhere. When wasn't there unhappiness? When will there not be unhappiness? Certainly not in their lifetimes.

This, then, is what should be meant by the wish for a happy new year—not that the year should be happy, not that any special set of circumstances should cause happiness, but that the individual should find happiness in whatever kind of a year it is and whatever circumstances go with it. That's happiness.

In '60 Women Made Most of Leap Year

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

In 1960 women outnumbered men at the polls, won Olympic medals, made the most of Leap Year. Soap operas went down the drain, but housewives carried on bravely. They tried 900-calorie liquid diets wore purple, kept their heads about high fashion's sooty eye makeup and culottes for town wear.

And they had famous babies. The index of influential infants is hard to pin down, but any list would include:

John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., whose proud parents will move him into a White House nursery Jan. 20; Prince Andrew, son of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip; Prince Reza Koorosh Ali, long-awaited heir to the peacock throne of Iran, born to the Shah and Queen Farah; Prince Naruhito, son of Japan's Crown Prince Akihito and Crown Princess Michiko.

The Steven Rockefellers (she's Anne Marie Rasmussen) and Brigitte Bardot had boys, too.

OTHER VITAL statistics of the year included prominent divorces Sir Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh of the British theater, Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz of the American TV screen. Sex symbol Marilyn Monroe broke off her marriage with playwright Arthur Miller.

Maybe Leap Year had nothing to do with it, but the world's First Spinster popped the question. British Princess Margaret Rose had to, of course—it was protocol. She gained a commoner Jones, but lost a butler, Thomas Cronin. The perfect servant felt his master didn't measure up.

Along with Leap Year, every fourth year comes the presidential election. And the 1960 political arena at times resembled a Daisy Chain so many women got in the act. Campaigning with their candidate husbands were Mrs. Richard Nixon, Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson.

Jacqueline Kennedy stayed home to await Junior, but her youth, beauty and taste in clothes kept her controversial at coffee klatches. The talk tempo stepped up when she became first Lady-elect.

Margaret Chase Smith of Maine won re-election over Miss Lucia M. Cormier in the first all-woman senate race. Neither were women abroad slackers politically. Japan got its first woman cabinet member, Mrs. Masa Nakayama, welfare minister. Ceylon got the world's first woman prime minister, Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike. And the U.S.S.R. made its top-ranking woman Communist, blonde Ekaterina Furtseva minister of culture.

In other fields ATHLETICS: Olympic heroines were sprinter Wilma Rudolph, figure skater Carol Heiss, swimmers Chris von Saltza and Lynn Burke. An older amateur, Russian-born British physician, Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, walked 3,387 miles across the United States in 185 days, mostly munching grass. Uncounted were the women who bounced on trampolines in their backyards or exercised passively on oscillating couches in their boudoirs.

LITERATURE Margaret Leech won her second Pulitzer Prize for a history book. This one: "In The Days of McKinley." And the ghosted autobiographies of "damned" women continued haunting the bookstands.

Lisbon Social Notes

Rev. and Mrs. Paul T. Gerrard and daughter, Ruth Ann, were hosts Thursday evening at the Presbyterian manse at an open house holiday event for the young adults and students of the church home from college.

Refreshments were served from a lovely appointed buffet table laid with a lace cloth and centered with a holiday wreath. White candles burned in wrought iron candle holders and a large crystal punch bowl completed the setting. The home was decorated throughout in the holiday theme.

The affair, the first of its kind, was well attended. Record music and visiting were enjoyed. The birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Lela Stock, Mrs. Ollie Carnes, Mrs. Elva Fife and Mrs. Marjorie Mitchell were honored with gifts during the social hour Thursday night when the members of the D of A Lodge met at their hall on N. Market St.

Mrs. Elizabeth Polite, vice counselor, conducted the regular meeting, and Mrs. Bessie Cullison, Mrs. Olive Scott, Miss Katherine McKee and Mrs. Velva Allmon were in charge of the games and the serving of the lunch.

500 prizes were won by Mrs. Nannie Beehan and Mrs. Fife, and social bingo prizes went to Mrs. Sadie Rose, Mrs. Myrtle Toot, Mrs. Lydia Bennett and Mrs. Lillian Ward.

Next Thursday will be the installation of new officers, and all taking part are asked to wear white.

Mrs. Leo Capehart and Miss Ruth Maple were guests when Mrs. Clyde Lewis entertained the Thursday Night Bridge Club at her home on N. Market St.

Scoring honors went to Mrs. Herbert Heim and Miss Maple. Mrs. Gilbert Marshall will receive the club Jan. 12 at her home on Sunset Drive.

The Thursday Night 500 Club met with Miss Sadie Pannier at her home on S. Market St. Mrs. Esther Will was a guest.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Dessie Williams and Mrs. Marie Welsh.

The next meeting will be Jan. 12 with Mrs. Williams as hostess at her home on N. Market St.

Mrs. Gilbert Cannon of N. Market St. was hostess Thursday night to the Lisbon Social Club for its regular meeting and a pre-New Year's party.

Social bingo was played, and Mrs. Robert McCaughin and Mrs. Darrel Jackson were awarded prizes.

Mrs. Frank Gbur of the West Point-Elkton Rd. will entertain on Jan. 5.

Mrs. Thomas Burnip of S. Lincoln Ave. had as guests Tuesday, her sister, Mrs. Albert Spear of Washingtonville, and her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowker of Atwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Kearney of E. Lincoln Way returned home Wednesday night from Indianapolis where they had spent several days in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kearney.

Miss Karen Anderson of Greenville, Pa., is the house guest of Miss Mary Lynn Heim of Franklin Square Road. They are roommates at Mt. Union College.

Mr. and Mrs. Manning Heilbroner were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Whitacre of Salem when the latter entertained with a family dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brenne-man of Mt. Clemens, Mich., have returned to their home after spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gouldsberry of Harrison St.

Pvt. Jack Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams of E. Chestnut St., will return to Fort Lewis, Wash., on New Year's Day. Jack arrived home Christmas Eve.

Laymen to Have Charge Of Columbiana Union Service

COLUMBIANA — Laymen from five churches will present the program for tonight's annual union Watch Night services, scheduled to start at 11:30 p.m. in Jerusalem Lutheran Church.

George Seederly, who headed up arrangements for the service, listed the following representatives of participating churches who will offer brief remarks on the "Brotherhood" theme which has been adopted for the program: First Methodist Church, Terry Mash; First Presbyterian Church, William Am; Jerusalem Lutheran Church, Clyde Douglas; Grace United Church of Christ, Lowell

Ziegler, and Zion Hill Church of the Brethren, Wilbur Detwiler. Organist for the program will be Beverly Bock.

Church of the Nazarene will have a separate Watch Night service at 10:30 p.m. Communion will be served. The Christian Church also will have a separate service, starting at 8 p.m. and concluding at midnight with a prayer circle. The Columbiana B'n'e Church will have a service at 9 p.m.

A "HOLIDAY OPEN HOUSE" will be held Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mackall at their home, 206 Manor Drive. Friends are invited to call from 2:30 to 5:30 and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

PARTIES AND GIFT exchanges for elementary classes in Columbiana schools, cancelled Dec. 22 when schools were shut down by heavy snow, have been rescheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 3, first day of classes after the Christmas vacation. Principal Raymond Cole said the parties will be held during the final hour of the school day.

Tracy C. Powell, treasurer of the Columbiana Community Fund, reported a "take" of $45.67 from parking meters during a two-week period traditionally calls for free parking for shoppers. This year, the village council decreed that any money dropped into the meters during the two weeks would be contributed to the community fund, which fell far short of its goal.

Powell said the fund now has a $7,100.

He expects to call a meeting of the board of directors soon to determine distribution of the funds among the five agencies which share in it — Boy and Girl Scouts, two Salem hospitals and the Salvation Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ballantine of the Columbiana-New Waterford Road, and their three children expect to leave soon for Torrance, Calif., where they will make their home. Mr. Ballantine has accepted a position with the Harvey Aluminum Co.

Holiday guests in the Dr. DeWalt home were their son-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Dickinson of Kettering, O. Mrs. Hazel Rearick spent Christmas with her son, Kenneth and family of Wooster.

MR. AND MRS. FRED LINDSAY — Mr. Cross St. observed their 56th wedding anniversary Dec. 21. Mr. Lindsay is a retired iron moulder, last employed by the Quaker City Foundry at Salem. They have two children, Mrs. Edward Juhn of Alliance and Russell Lindsay of Columbiana.

Art Carter and family, who are missionaries in Brazil, will speak and show slides of their work Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Christian Church. The Carters' four daughters and a Brazilian girl will also be present.

Leetonia

The Variety Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Donna Gologram for a Christmas gift exchange. Lunch was served. The next meeting will be Jan. 11 in the home of Mrs. Sandy Grove of Washingtonville.

Rebekah Lodge will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening. All members are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Royce Briggs has entered the Salem Central Clinic for observation.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mancuso of Springfield are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Briggs. The Methodist Church Family Night covered-dish dinner will be held Sunday, Jan. 8, at 6 p.m. The Harmony Class will have charge of the dinner and program.

Four tables of 500 was played at the card party sponsored by the Rebekah lodge Thursday evening. Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Daugan of Salem and Mrs. Russell Smith and Mrs. Leo Horst of Leetonia. Mrs. Horst served the refreshments. The next benefit will be held Saturday, Jan. 7.

The Council of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. when final reports for 1960 will be received. D. R. White, Lloyd Holloway and John Beilhart, Jr. are the retiring Council members.

Mrs. Bess Switzer of Elkton and Mrs. Albert Garret of East Palestine visited this week with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Nahar.

With The Patients

Mrs. W. H. Cleland of 218 E. 7th St., who has been confined to her home 10 days with bronchitis, is reported to be somewhat improved.

Deaths, Funerals

Clunen Funeral

LEETONIA — Funeral service for John J. Clunen, 72, of 317 S. Rockhill St., Alliance, who died suddenly Thursday night in Alliance City Hospital, will be Monday at 9 a.m. at St. Patrick's Church in Leetonia. Rev. Warren Braun will officiate. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening at the Woods Funeral Home.

Born April 8, 1888 in Leetonia, he was a son of Thomas and Mary McNamara Clunen.

A retired machinist, he had been employed 45 years by the Crecent Machine Co.

He made his home with a nephew, Wilbur Clunen in Alliance for the past two and a half years.

He was a member of the Regina Coeli Roman Catholic Church of Alliance.

He married Olive Whitacre in 1936. She died Nov. 22, 1953.

He is survived by a son, Robert Clunen of Wilmington, Del., two grandchildren, nieces and nephews, and a brother, Thomas F. Clunen of Alliance.

Charles Cameron

EAST PALESTINE — Charles Cameron, 83, a resident at nearby New Middletown most of his life, died at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the home of a nephew, Robert Foster of the Paris-ONEIDA Rd. near Minerva.

A retired farmer, he was born in Washington County, Pa., May 18, 1877, a son of John and Minerva Tindall Cameron.

He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Mary Foster and Mrs. Cora Reese of East Palestine, and three brothers, James of Salem, Lawrence of East Palestine and William of South Gate, Calif.

Services will be held at the nephew's home near Minerva Tuesday at 1 p.m. in charge of Rev. Leroy Antrem. Burial will be in Petersburg Cemetery.

Friends may call at the home anytime.

Russell G. Carder

LISBON — Russell G. Carder, 71, of Lisbon-Columbiana Road, died unexpectedly of a heart ailment about 7:30 a.m. today on his way to work. He was a chart changer for the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co.

He collapsed in the yard of a neighbor while walking to work and was dead when discovered. He was born Dec. 16, 1889, at Big Isaac, W. Va., a son of James W. and Mary Jane Greynolds Carder, and lived here the past 21 years.

Besides his wife, the former Orpha Davis, he leaves a son, Paul of the Columbiana Road; three sisters, Mrs. Grace Sutton, Mrs. Mossy Burner and Mrs. Oma Golden, all of Phillipi, W. Va.; five brothers, Ralph of Painesville, Coy of West Milford, W. Va., Clifford of Clarksburg, W. Va., Aubrey of Baltimore, Md., and Walter of Clendenning, W. Va.; and two grandchildren.

The funeral service will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Big Isaac Methodist church, with Rev. John Donley of Columbiana Church of the Nazarene officiating. Burial will be in Big Isaac Cemetery. Friends may call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Monday at the Henry Funeral home here.

100 Couples Attend

Lisbon Charity Ball

LISBON — Over 100 couples attended the annual Yuletide Charity Ball Friday in Lisbon High School gymnasium. Music was furnished by Keith Riffle's band of Salem.

Co-chairman Tom Gallo said he believes the Friday night date was a factor in limiting the crowd. The ball is held usually on the Saturday night between Christmas and New Year's but was changed this year because the holidays are on Sundays.

Gallo said he believes the dance will clear about $100. The beneficiary will be named at a committee meeting. Others on the dance committee were Mrs. Gallo and Mr. and Mrs. Walter McDevitt.

On the decoration committee were Miss Betty McKenna, Tom McKenna, Miss Jetty Liggett and Miss Velma Brinker.

LISBON — Here's a tip for TV viewers who like to beat the panel on "To Tell the Truth."

One of the subjects to guess on the CBS New York program at 7:30 p.m. Monday will be Tom Pike of RD 4, Lisbon, whose Fort Tuscarora Museum on Rt. 172 near Guilford Lake is widely-known.

Pike is an authority on pioneer days in this area and is a champion marksman with the old muzzle-loading rifles.

TAVERN OWNER ROBBED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Tavern owner Robert Ganz, 39, was leaving a branch bank Friday when two gunmen jumped into his car and forced him to drive to a secluded spot. They took $5,000 from him, then forced him out of the car. The automobile was recovered not far from the scene, but the two gunmen were being sought. Ganz said the pair also got his diamond ring which he valued at $1,800, but that they missed another $3,000 in his pocket.

DIES IN CAR CRASH

No One Injured In City Traffic Mishaps

No one was injured in three auto accidents that occurred in the city today and Friday, police reported.

George T. Willard, 35, of Youngstown, a driver for Red's Cab, ran into two parked vehicles owned by Stephen Jasecho, Jr., of Canfield and Robert L. Hookey of 775 S. Union today at 1:40 a.m. at the intersection of Wilson St. and S. Ellsworth Ave.

Willard was cited by police for reckless operation.

Two autos were involved in a minor mishap at the intersection of Homewood Ave. and Home Circle, Friday at 6:15 p.m.

One auto driven by William M. Mull, 17, of 1833 S.E. Blvd. was struck on the bumper by a vehicle operated by Mrs. Mary Wolcott, 58, of 940 Home Circle.

Mrs. Wolcott was making a left turn onto Home Circle when the accident occurred and because of icy conditions the Mull auto was slipping.

Wilbur Brahm, 47, of 91 Sharp St. and Robert E. Moffett of 1791 E. State St. collided at 4:38 p.m. Friday on N. Ellsworth Ave.

Both were traveling south on N. Ellsworth and when Moffett stopped for traffic Brahm hit him in the rear because he could not stop on the icy pavement.

Bird Club Members Will Conduct Census

The Salem Bird Study Club will hold its Christmas census on Sunday. Members are to phone their observations to William C. Baker.

The next meeting will be Friday at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Building. Mrs. Bess Cline will be program chairman. Edmund Bailey will give the bird biography of the "Red Tailed Hawk."

ACCIDENT CORRECTION

An accident at the intersection of Rt. 45 and Rt. 165 at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday was caused when a truck driven by Robert H. Noling, 79, of RD 1, East Rochester stopped at a stop sign and then proceeded into the line of traffic and was struck by Maurice E. Jones, 37, of RD 1 Berlin Center, according to the Canfield Highway Patrol. Jones was not at fault, as was indicated in a story Thursday.

Later he was a special assistant in such agencies as the Housing Division of the Works Progress Administration, the National Defense Advisory Commission, the War Production Board and the War Manpower Commission.

Kennedy reportedly is about ready to pick still another Harvard man — McGeorge Bundy, dean of the faculty of arts and sciences — to be his special assistant in charge of national security matters.

Kennedy sprinkled the New Year holiday weekend with a mixture of business engagements and plans for more relaxation on the golf course and at a football game.

On Monday the president-elect will fly to Miami for the Missouri-Navy Orange Bowl game. Kennedy, a World War II Navy veteran, will be rooting for the midshipmen.

Kennedy was host overnight to Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the late president, Roosevelt told reporters he had not been offered a job in the new administration. It was learned, meanwhile, that Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia is under consideration — among others — for the post of secretary of the Army.

Laos

Vientiane expressed surprise at the urgency of a communique issued by the premier's office and said it indicated the situation was serious.

Reinforcements were being rushed to the invaded area, the communique said.

The United States has poured $300 million in military aid into Laos in five years. The Soviet Union is airdropping military supplies to leftist forces led by paratrooper Capt. Kong Le, Premier Bouin's arch foe who was driven from Vientiane Dec. 15.

Leftist Pathet Lao troops, another faction in the six-year-old Lao-tian war, have been supplied by Red North Viet Nam.

Western military experts in Vientiane said there have been unconfirmed reports for two or three weeks that four and possibly five Vietnamese battalions were operating along the mountainous northeast Lao-tian border.

But reports from this area — Xiengkhouang Province — have not always been entirely correct due to poor communications, military experts said.

North Viet Nam radio in Hanoi broadcast a denial that an invasion had begun.

East Palestine Man Dies of Bullet Wound

EAST PALESTINE — Neal R. Spaide, 38, of RD 2, East Palestine, died at 2:30 a.m. today in Salem City Hospital of complications following the removal of what police said was a self-inflicted bullet wound.

He was taken to the hospital last Saturday.

Coroner William Kolozsi is to conduct an autopsy today.

Born Jan. 31, 1922, at LaJosa, Pa., he was the son of Aden and Zora Hilliard Spaide. He was married Jan. 24, 1953, to Helen Hill of this city. He was a magazine salesman.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Gloria Jean; a stepson, Willard Leake; his parents and a brother, Eugene at Williamsport, Pa.

Services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at VanDyke Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Thomas Hammerton. Burial will be made at Mahaffey, Pa.

Friends may call at the funeral home Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Battling Quakers Deal First Loss to Akron North, 66-59

Don Davidson Pours in 29 Points, Grabs 15 Rebounds for Salem

Beery Cages 19 Markers As Locals Recover in 4th Period to Pull Upset

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

The Quakers did it! They handed the invading Akron North Vikings their first defeat of the season after six straight victories and in the process thrilled the large crowd of 1,969 paid customers with their finest performance of the season.

The final score was 66-59, but the victory did not come easily in spite of a tremendous 29-point scoring effort by Salem's 6-5 senior captain, Don Davidson.

With Davidson and Ronnie Janovec, 6-3 senior forward, controlling the boards and Big DD, junior Bob Eskay and sophomore Bill Beery handled the scoring, Salem jumped off to an 8-3 lead in the first three minutes of play.

However, a tip-in by 6-3 Lonnie Wilson, another goal and Gene Thomas, another goal shot quickly pulled North into a 9-8 lead. Davidson and Eskay combined talents and Salem moved back into a 14-9 advantage as the first quarter came to an end.

SALEM THEN OUTSCORED North 26-21 in a wild second quarter to go into the dressing room at halftime with a 40-30 bulge.

In that second period, Big DD drilled 11 points; Eskay, zeroing in from outside the four circle, pumped in six markers; and Beery, hitting from the side, chipped in with seven points in the second canto.

Akron North sank only three goals in the second quarter but stayed in the game by hitting a phenomenal 15 for 17 from the foul line.

An indication of just how hot Salem was from the field in the first half is shown in the statistics. The Quakers hit 15 of 32 shots or almost half of their attempts. North was a very cold 7 for 26 from the floor.

The complexion of the game made a 180 degree flip in the third frame. While Akron North was connecting on eight of 16 shots, Salem found a lid over its hoop and could do no better than a very poor two for 14.

Salem's 10-point lead at half time melted away and when with three seconds left in the third quarter, Wilson rebounded a missed shot and put it back up for two points, North took the lead for the first time since early in the game, 48-47.

TWO QUICK BUCKETS by the battling Don Davidson vaulted Salem back on top, 51-48, at the start of the final period.

Not to be denied, North came

Citadel Wins 27-0 in Bowl

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The Cadets of Citadel stormed Tennessee Tech's goal and stood fast against every assault for a 27-0 victory Friday night before 13,000 fans at the 15th annual Tangerine Bowl football game.

Citadel's charging line tore big holes for the Cadet ball carriers. It swamped many of the Eagles' offensive thrusts before they got into gear. The winners netted 241 yards rushing to 71 for Tennessee Tech.

Quarterback Jerry Nettles threw two touchdown passes among his eight completions of 14 attempts, gaining 137 yards.

Missouri, Navy Run Through Final Drills

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Orange Bowl rivals Missouri and Navy take their final workouts today for their football meeting Monday night. Sunday they will look over the bowl and confine themselves to limbering-up exercises.

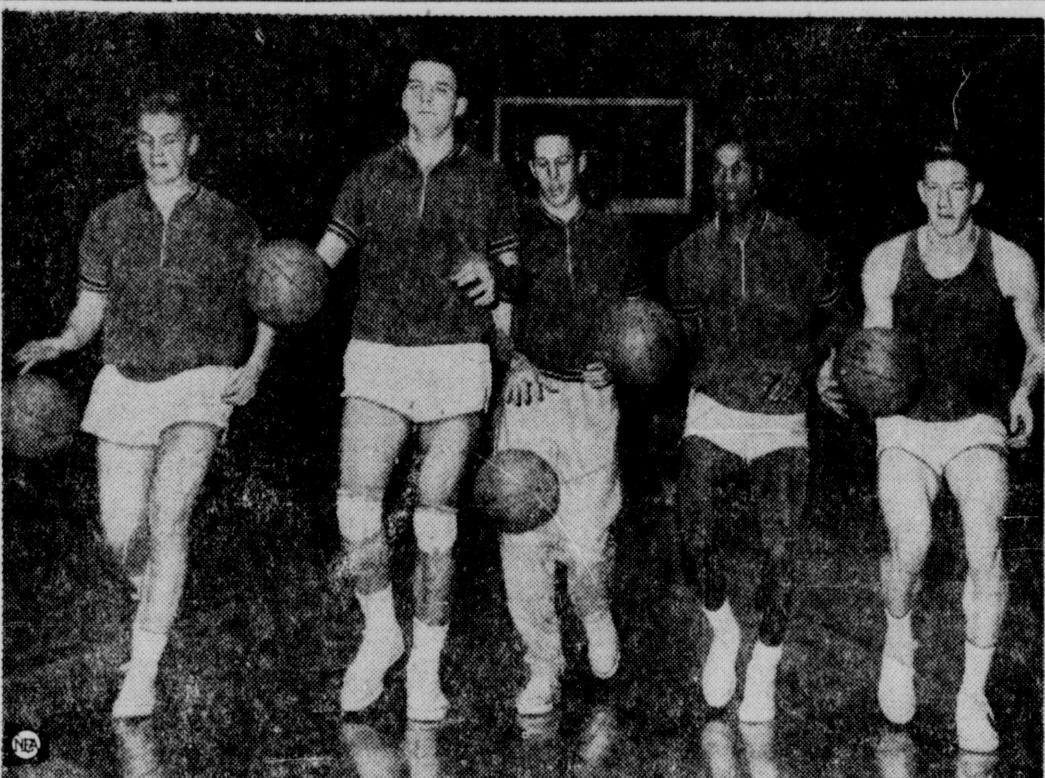

Navy's twin threats of Hal Spooner's passing and Joe Belino's running and pass receiving continue to concern Coach Danny Devine of Missouri.

The Missourians have been much better on pass defense this past season than in 1959, when the opposition completed 50 per cent of its tosses.

Ted Williams, Jack Jensen and Sammy White are on the voluntarily retired list of the Boston Red Sox.

Springfield Local Dumps St. Mary's

Springfield Local evened its record at 1-1 in the Turnpike Conference last night as Warren St. Mary fell the victim, 50-39 on the Warren court.

The Tigers rolled to their second triumph in seven outings while the Mohawks took their fifth lacing in six starts. St. Mary is now 0-1 in Turnpike Conference competition.

Coach Leigh Klingensmith's Tiger quintet was balanced in its scoring with Bruce Mincher taking individual honors with 13 tallies. He was followed by Ted Slagle and Jim Allen with 10 points apiece.

Leading the way for St. Mary was high scoring Tom Norton with seven fielders and four fouls for 18 markers.

Springfield Local jumped out to an 18-11 margin in the initial stanza but cooled off in the second quarter as they matched Warren's output of eight points.

The third period was a low scoring eight minutes as the tigers meshed nine tallies and St. Mary hooped eight to give Springfield a 35-27 lead going into the final canto. Both teams found the range in the fourth period but the Tigers had built up a good lead in the first half to win easily.

Springfield Local connected on 18 of 54 field goal shots for 33 per cent but the mohawks had trouble finding the range as they earned only 19 per cent of their shots, hitting on 15 of 78 tries.

St. Mary salvaged the Jayvee game, 25-18.

49ers Sign UCLA Star Bill Kilmer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Re-arming their "shotgun" offense for 1961, the San Francisco 49ers signed UCLA star Bill Kilmer, grabbing him before the Los Angeles Chargers did.

Kilmer put his name to a contract Friday in the office of Coach Red Hickey who sized him up as a great potential gunner for the 49ers' new spread.

The UCLA tailback led the nation in total offense last fall with 1,889 yards. He was drafted by the 49ers as a first-round pick.

In the American Football League draft, he had been tapped by the Chargers.

Kilmer rushed for 803 yards and passed for 1,086 for the UCLA's.

In the shotgun offense, the quarterback stands about 7 yards behind center and takes a direct snap. Then he can either pass, run or hand off to a fullback or halfback.

John Brodie, not noted as a runner, made the offense click as its quarterback in the final four 49er games as San Francisco won three of them.

Jackson-Milton Handed Sixth Straight Defeat

Jackson-Milton went down to its sixth straight cage defeat without a win Friday night when it fell before Cardinal Mooney, 69-58 at Jackson-Milton.

The Mooney five jumped off to a 13-5 first period lead, but the Blue Jays surged back to narrow the gap, 29-23 by intermission.

Cardinal Mooney put on the steam in the next stanza to hold a 30-35 margin going into the final period.

The winners were paced by Mike Scheider who sank nine goals for 18 points. Pete Welsh added 17 markers to the victors' total.

High scoring honors for the Blue Jays were split by Mike Woloschak and Keith Kenzie, each of whom netted 15.

Jackson-Milton's next game will be Jan. 6 when it plays host to Champion.

Blue Devils Shoot 61% at Foul Line

Lisbon's winless Blue Devils suffered their fifth consecutive loss as Marlington pinned a 63-36 defeat on Coach Gary Pike's crew last night at Marlington.

Marlington, in coping its second victory in five starts, led from the opening jump with quarter scores of 13-6, 30-15 and 47-27.

Both teams used a full court press the entire game and were able to do so because the Marlington gym is so small. Marlington used the press more effectively than did the Blue Devils as Lisbon managed five field goals in the first half and connected on two from the field in the second half.

Lisbon shot a dismal 14.2 per cent in field goal attempts hitting on 7 of 49. However, the Blue Devils were hot from the charity stripe pumping in 22 of 36 for a good percentage of 61.1.

Leading the way for Lisbon was Paul Fry with nine foul shots for n.e. markers. Roger McCaughin dumped in eight for the losers.

Keith Umberger paced the Marlington attack with 18 points; Gary Mares chipped in with 17 and Wayne Lepley added 12.

Lisbon dropped the reserve tilt, 59-36.

Louisville Bows 42-37 To Glenwood

Louisville bowed 42-37 to Glenwood Friday night in a low-scoring cage contest on the losers' floor.

The defeat gives the Leopards a 1-4 record for the year.

The contest contained little fireworks in the first half during which a total of 28 points was scored by both teams.

Glenwood led at the end of the initial quarter 7-4 and waltzed ahead 15-13 at the intermission.

The three-quarter mark was 28-24, with Glenwood in the lead.

Dave Skelly and Tim Shapiro shared scoring honors for the victors with 13 points apiece.

Gary Allen was high scorer for the losers with 14. He was followed by Bob Bardash who netted 11.

Louisville sank 13 of 50 goal attempts for 26 per cent. Glenwood was only slightly more accurate, netting 16 of 56 tries for 29 per cent.

From the free throw line, Louisville hooped 11 of 22 for 50 per cent and the visitors, 10 of 18 for 55 per cent.

The Louisville Reserves won the preliminary contest 52-30.

The Leopards' next fray will be Jan. 6 when they are host to Minerva in a Tri-County League game.

United Rally Falls Short

Beavers Fade, But Nip United 58-55

Beaver Local downed a spirited United Local aggregation, 58-55

last night on the Beaver hardwoods after the visiting Golden Eagles almost turned defeat into victory with a second half surge that spluttered in the closing seconds.

The host Beavers captured their third win of the season against one setback while the United five suffered its fifth loss in a row after an opening game triumph.

Pacing the Beavers to victory was 6-3 Jim Banner with 17 points and 6-2 Mike Durbin with 11 markers. Both cagers were the whole show for the victors as their driving lay-ups and one handed jump shots from the key paved the way to the win.

IN THE FIRST STANZA the Beaver quintet raced out to a 24-6 margin and it seemed that United was going to take a drubbing. However, the Golden Eagles had other ideas and went on to outscore the Beavers, 17-12 in the second canto and trail by a 36-23 score at intermission.

Big Banner was the main reason the Beavers led at halftime as the senior center poured in 11 markers on three fielders and five of six from the foul stripe.

Jim Ernst and Larry Marks put the spark into the United five in the second period as they paced the team to within 13 points of the Beavers after the initial 16 minutes. Ernst tallied eight points in the half and Marks whipped in seven to keep United in contention.

United was led in the scoring department by Schaffer with 18 markers and John Hanna with 14. The Golden Eagles drilled in 37 per cent of its field goal attempts and rammed in 52 per cent of its charity shots by hitting on 13 of 25.

The Beaver JV's downed the United reserves, 39-33.

Chargers-Oilers Contest Expected To Draw 25,000

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Los Angeles Chargers, losers in Houston's first American Football League game, worked out today with hopes of closing the season with an upset victory.

The Chargers and the Houston Oilers meet in the AFL's first championship game Sunday before an expected 25,000 persons and a national television audience —ABC, 2:30 p. m., CST. Houston is a 6½ point favorite.

The Chargers lost to Houston, 28-28, in the Oilers' first league home game in September, and won, 24-21, on a muddy field in Los Angeles later.

The Chargers, with 10-4 record, won the league's Western Division, Houston, also 10-4, won the Eastern Division.

Ohio State Battles Bonnies for Holiday Festival Title

N. Carolina, Duke In Dixie Tourney

West Virginia Trips Memphis State;
Navy, Iowa, Wichita Win Contests

The wild Christmas tournament week roars to a bone-rattling close tonight with two battles of the behemoths on tap—Ohio State against St. Bonaventure and Duke against South Carolina.

Ohio State and St. Bonaventure clash for the ECAC Holiday Festival title in New York's Madison Square Garden and when it's all over, one perfect record will be shattered. Both are undefeated.

The Buckeyes rank No. 1 in the country in the current Associated Press poll. The Bonnies are No. 3. Ohio State is favorite, but ace Jerry Lucas has been battling the flu all through the tournament and missed practice Friday.

Duke, ranked No. 6 in the country—also undefeated—and North Carolina, which just missed the top 10 in this week's voting, gained their final spots in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N. C., Friday night.

The Blue Devils, sparked by Art Heyman's 29 points, came from behind to whip Marquette, 86-73, for their ninth triumph. North Carolina coasted to an 87-67 victory over Villanova.

A whole fistful of tournaments were decided Friday night. Here's how they went:

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans—West Virginia snapped Memphis State's unbeaten record at eight games with an 86-82 overtime victory.

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.—Navy outlasted favored Georgia Tech in a rousing finish, 63-60. Los Angeles Classic—Iowa upset UCLA, 71-65.

All College Tournament at Oklahoma City—Wichita fought off Baylor at the finish and eked out a 76-74 decision.

Allen Ewing Sinks 25 Points In 69-35 Win for Salem JVs

Allen Ewing looked like anything but a reserve player last night as he dumped in 25 points in leading the Salem JVs to a 69-35 win over the visiting Akron North Reserves.

A 5-10 junior, Ewing hit from all angles of the court in rolling up his 25 markers which were the most points scored this season by a Salem JV player.

Gary Jeffries, who later went on to star in the varsity tilt, racked up 18 points in a little less than three periods of action.

Sam Watson did a fine job on the boards and contributed 10

Celtics Down Knicks 120-106

Royals Eke 136-130
Win Over Warriors

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics were back in sole possession of first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association today chiefly because of the fine shooting of Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson.

The Celtics downed the New York Knickerbockers 120-106 Friday night. Robertson got into the act by pacing the Cincinnati Royals to 136-130 victory over the Philadelphia Warriors. The two results gave the Celtics a game lead over the Warriors.

In other games, the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division pacemakers, beat the Los Angeles Lakers 107-99 in the second game of a doubleheader which saw Detroit turn back Syracuse 121-112 in the opener. The twin bill was played at St. Louis.

Robertson, held to nine points in the first half, broke loose for 29 in the final two quarters to help offset a 49-point performance by Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain.

Carrollton Ripped 64-50 By Minerva

Minerva hiked its season record to 4-1 Friday night when it turned back invading Carrollton, 64-50.

The contest, closely fought until the last period, was marked by low scoring in the first half. Minerva led at the end of the first stanza 10-8 and maintained its two-point margin at the intermission, 24-22.

Carrollton spurred to tie the score at the three-quarter mark, 35-35.

Gary Elliott was the big gun for the Lions with 19 points. Don Miller added 18 to the winners' total.

Roy Chaddock paced the losers with 14 points. Next highest scorer for the visitors was Bob Morgan with 11.

The Minerva Jayvees took the opening contest 57-30.

The Lions' next game will be Jan. 6 when they invade Louisville in a Tri-County League contest.

Potters Grab Title, 65-53; Miller Hits 26

East Liverpool's Potters dealt the Massillon Tigers a 65-53 set back last night in the East Liverpool Tournament to capture the championship on the efforts of a 26-point outburst by Ken Miller.

The Potters grabbed the top spot in the tourney by getting out in front of the Tigers and remaining there. East Liverpool held quarter leads of 18-11, 31-27 and 45-34 in taking the victory.

Ken Cunningham, the Potters' all-around athlete, contributed 15 tallies to the winning cause and Perry Husrst added 12 for the victors.

Anderson was the big gun in the Massillon attack with 17 points. He was followed by Null and Krnach with 13 apiece.

East Liverpool defeated Midland, Pa. on Thursday night, 50-44 to gain the championship encounter.

Midland won the consolation game with a surprising 61-48 triumph over strong Marietta.

Schloredt to See Bowl Game Action

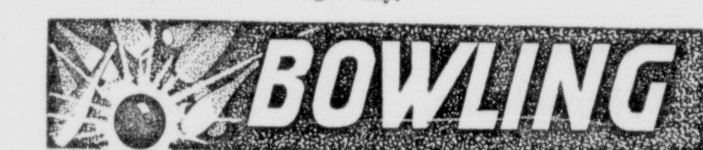

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The uncertain lot of 1959 All-America Bob Schloredt of Washington raised a tall question mark today over the Huskies' Rose Bowl struggle with Minnesota.

Unless Coach Jim Owens switches at the last minute, the quarterback in Washington's 44-8 conquest of Wisconsin last New Year's Day will be on the bench Monday when the Huskies start against the national champions.

But Schloredt, inactive since he broke his collarbone against UCLA two months ago, is certain to be in action soon thereafter.

"He's healed but he hasn't hit the conditioning and timing he had in midseason," said Owens. "He'll play at least half the time, though."

Vikings Sign Costello

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ron Costello, quarterback for Xavier of Ohio for the past two years, has signed a contract with the Minneapolis Vikings of the National Football League.

Costello's wife Nancy reported the signing Friday. Costello, not drafted in the league selections last Tuesday, was signed as a free agent.

Costello, a capable passer, was picked for the 1960 All-Catholic squad chosen by coaches of 22 American Catholic Schools.

Sam Jones pitched a one-hitter and a pair of two-hit games for the San Francisco Giants last season. He had three three-hitters. Quarterback Sandy Stephens of Minnesota intercepted four passes during the Big Ten season. He returned them 114 yards.

Rain Expected At Sugar Bowl

Mississippi Favored Over Rice by 10

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Sooner or later, the weatherman always slips into the bowl picture and for Monday's Sugar Bowl football game between Mississippi and Rice, he says it might be wet.

The weekend weather outlook for the New Orleans area calls for temperatures around 50 to 60 degrees with occasional rain Sunday and Monday.

But damp underfooting shouldn't bother either Mississippi, runnerup to Minnesota for the national title, or the Owls who tied for second place in the Southwest Conference.

Mississippi rules a 10-point favorite, but support is growing for Rice. And with a wet field in prospect, the 80,000 fans in Tulane Stadium and millions more on national television (SBC) might see a pretty close game.

Wet conditions could hamper the passing of Rebel quarterback Jake Gibbs, an All-America. But Gibbs is backed up by some good running backs in halfbacks Bobby Crespin and George Blair and fullback Jim Anderson. And Gibbs is a pretty good runner himself if conditions dictate he should concentrate on a ground attack.

Rice will have the same burden since a wet ball probably would hamper Owl quarterback Billy Cox. But again, Rice has capable runners in halfbacks Bob Wyatt and Max Webb and fullback Roland Jackson.

20,000 To See All-Star Tussle

Blue, Gray Coaches OK Unlimited Substitution

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer Good old-fashioned platoon football returns to the college scene today—perhaps for the last time.

Coaches of the all-star Blue-Gray game, one of seven that make up today's opening course of the annual year-end football banquet, agreed to an unlimited substitution variation of the regular college rules.

I isn't likely that coaches Paul Dietzel of the South or Jack Molenkopf of the North will substitute 11 men at a time, as was done generally before platoons were legislated out of existence in 1953. The idea is to give them the opportunity to make the best use of their talented but limited squads.

Still the 20,000 or so fans who are expected for the all-star tussle at Montgomery, Ala., and the TV viewers may have the last chance to pass judgment on the unlimited substitution variation of the regular college rules.

A proposal to be voted on at the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention early in January would require that all postseason games receiving NCAA approval be played under NCAA rules. That would eliminate such variations by agreement.

In addition to the Blue-Gray game, today's postseason program includes the Gator Bowl meeting at Jacksonville, Fla., between Baylor and Florida, the Shrine East-West game at San Francisco; the all-star Copper Bowl at Tempe, Ariz.; the Sun Bowl (New Mexico State vs. Utah State) at El Paso, Texas; the Great Southwestern Bowl (Texas A&I vs. Arkansas Tech) at Grand Prairie, Texas; and the Prairie View Bowl (Arkansas AM&N vs. Prairie View) at Houston.

About 187,000 spectators are expected to watch the seven games. Three will be televised nationally. The Blue-Gray and East-West games form a doubleheader on the air waves via NBC-TV. The Gator Bowl is on CBS-TV.

The main course of the banquet will be served Monday—national champion Minnesota vs. Washington in the Rose Bowl, Missouri vs. Navy in the Orange Bowl, Rice vs. Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl and Duke vs. Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl.

Akron U. Interviews Larson for Coach

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Samuel Selby, chairman of Akron University's Athletic Committee, says Gordon Larson, Ohio State University backfield coach, has been interviewed for the post of football coach at Akron.

Joe McMullen, Akron head coach for six years, last week was named an assistant to Financial Vice President Les Hardy.

Larson, who played football and basketball at South High School here, started coaching in 1949 at Twinsburg High. He coached at South High and Marion Harding before being named backfield coach at Ohio State in 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wymer were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kyser of Columbiana Christmas Eve. The Wymeres were Christmas breakfast guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Holloway of New Waterford. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holloway and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holloway of Columbiana and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Holloway of East Palestine.

Mr. and Mrs. Wymer entertained at a family dinner and Christmas gift exchange at their home, Christmas Day. Among those present for the day were Mr. and Mrs. James Holloway of New Waterford, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kyser of Columbiana, Mrs. Bella Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eddy, Dianne and Martha Eddy, all of East Liverpool, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lawrence of Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lawrence of Steubenville.

TRUCKERS PAY FINES

Two truckers were fined Friday in Mayor Dean Cranmer's court. Fined were: Robert E. Wagner, 28, Middleburg, Pa.; $59 for overload. Everett D. Steed, 33, Girard; $25 for overload.

HEART FAILURE

Constrictive heart failure is a condition which occurs when the heart's ability to pump blood has been weakened by a disease of the organ itself or of the blood vessels. The heart muscle, thus, lacks strength to keep the blood circulating normally throughout the body.

Coal produces more electric energy than gas, oil and water-power combined.
